

be charged by the Commission in return for a license or authorization to make commercial use of the Logo shall be established by agreement between the parties.

(b) A non-refundable advance against future royalties will normally be required from the licensee.

(c) The Commission may, in its sole discretion, determine the circumstances under which it may choose to waive payment of fees, royalties or other charges for commercial use of the Logo.

§ 2202.37 Revocation.

The Commission reserves the right at all times and with respect to any license or authorization of commercial use of the Logo to withdraw, revoke or otherwise terminate such license or authorization.

§ 2202.38 Termination.

(a) Commercial use licenses for products will expire on the statutory termination date of the Commission with no residual rights to the manufacturer. Products manufactured on or before the termination date may be sold after such date subject to payment of applicable royalties to the Commission or its successor authorized to receive such payments.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, the Commission may by agreement permit non-profit, non-commercial entities, groups or organizations, or individuals, as defined in § 2202.14 of these regulations, to continue to identify themselves with the Quincentenary and/or to make non-commercial use of the Logo in connection with ongoing educational, cultural or scholarly activities or projects undertaken with the Commission's sponsorship, approval or recognition.

§ 2202.39 Place of manufacture and quality.

To the extent possible in light of the special international scope and character of the Quincentenary, products licensed by the Commission under these regulations must be made in the United States of America, its territories and possessions within the meaning of Federal Trade Commission "made in USA" designation guidelines. Any exceptions to this policy must be approved by the Commission or its designee for product licensing.

§ 2202.40 Excluded products.

As implied under Pub. L. 98-375, as amended, the Commission or its designee for such purposes has the discretion to exclude product areas from the licensing program. Any decision to exclude a product or product area from the licensing program shall be in writing and shall include a brief statement of the reason or reasons for such exclusion.
